

SCOTTISH NATIONAL SMALL-BORE RIFLE MEETING

AT LAUDER

SATURDAY 28th JUNE – FRIDAY 4th JULY 2014

The 2014 Scottish National Meeting will take place in the grounds of Thirlestane castle in Lauder.

Entries close for this meeting on Friday 23rd May. To avoid disappointment please get your entries in on time; entries received after 23rd May but before Friday 30th May, will attract a £20 flat rate surcharge. Entries received after 30th May will not be accepted.

Entry forms are available in the Rifleman, online at www.nsra.co.uk, or by contacting NSRA Competitions by email at Scotland@nsra.co.uk or by telephone on 01483 485518.

Please support your National Meeting and whilst here why not enjoy the surrounding area between competitions.

Lauder is a market town situated on the Leader Water on the western edge of the Lammermuir Hills, 22 miles south east of Edinburgh. One of the best ways to explore the town and learn about local history is to explore the Lauder Town Trail. This fascinating town trail is approximately 2 km (1.25 miles) long and takes about one hour to complete.

Thirlestane Castle will be open in 2014 on a limited basis following completion of renovation works.

Nearby on the banks of the river Tweed sits Abbotsford, the ancestral home of Sir Walter Scott,

If you're willing to travel a little further afield, Rosslyn Chapel, the church featured in The Da Vinci Code is with an hours drive away.

There are some stunning walks in the local area, with routes that include riverside, woodland and hill paths.

The NSRA looks forward to seeing you at Lauder
